An important book that contains autographed letters delivered by Dino Campana to Giovanni Papini together with the 1913 manuscript entitled "Il più Lungo Giorno" (the Longest Day). Discovered seventy year later, these manuscripts bring together in one volume the first drafts of Campana's lyric prose and a version of Pampa preceding the one published in Canti Orfici, in addition to Notturmi as well as correspondence by the author.

of the great author
Dino Campana

Dino Campana (20 August 1885 – 1 March 1932) was an Italian visionary poet. His fame rests on his only published book of poetry, the Canti Orfici ("Orphic Songs"), as well as his wild and erratic personality, including his ill-fated love affair with Sibilla Aleramo. He is often seen as an Italian example of a poète maudit

Gabriel Cacho Millet Journalist and author of plays, the Argentine writer Gabriel Cacho Millet is also a scholar of contemporary literature, especially of Dino Campana, Luigi Pirandello, Jorge Luis Borges, Primo Conti, Emanuel Carnevali.
