TEXT ITA/ENG

With his small cleverly constructed stages, Garcin moves us once again. When the magic happens, with his "little philosophies" Mister G. describes those simple little things that concern us all, how life goes by, how time flies. He talks about the strength that must be kept in spite of everything, about false modesty which does not make sense because people must always have the courage to expose themselves.

Gilbert Garcin was born in 1929 in La Ciotat, he now lives and works in Marseille. He spent most of his life managing a lamp factory and only after its retreat from the business, he discovered in 1993 his passion for photography. After an internship in Arles he started to use photomontage in different situations, as well as in unreal landscapes. His small theatrical feature situations show a witty taste for derision, unconventional situations and an humanoid humor that sometimes recalls Eugène Ionesco and his theater of the absurd. He has been represented in several international exhibitions and photo-festivals and art-fairs all over the Europe.
