

CAKE

The dessert culture between Arabic and Western traditions

Edited by Manuela De Leonardis

ISBN 978-88-98391-08-0

PAGES 144

FORMAT 16,5 x 23 cm

PRICE Euro 20,00

YEAR 2013

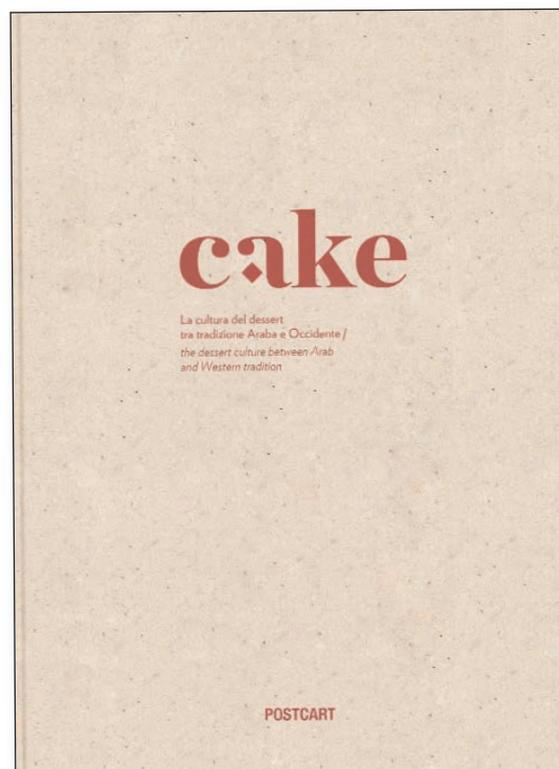

BINDING paperback with stitched

TEXT ITA/ENG

Cake is a book of art and cooking that contains a dialogue between recipes and the works of nineteen international artists: a voyage through knowledge, contaminating languages that are characterized by flavours, colors, and various aromas. A choral track to support and value a similar path: that of women in Nablus, which under the direction of Fatima Khaddoumi and Italian Cristina Bottigella and Beatrice Catanzaro, gave birth to Bait al Karama cookery School, the first international cooking school and Palestinian Slow Food Convivium in Palestine, with the aim of creating jobs for women who live in the Old City of Nablus. To these resourceful and creative women goes the support of Cake, with the hope that this voyage through cooking and the arts can help overcome barriers, visible and invisible.

with the artworks by:

Hassan Al-Meer, Paolo Angelosanto, Yto Barrada, Beatrice Catanzaro, Maimuna Feroze-Nana, Parastou Forouhar, Maïmouna Patrizia Guerresi, Susan Harbage Page, Reiko Hiramatsu, Uttam Kumar Karmaker, Silvia Levenson, Loredana Longo, MAD Angela Ferrara e Dino Lorusso, Şükran Moral, Ketna Patel, Pushpamala N., Anton Roca, Jack Sal, Larissa Sansour

a no-profit project
to support
BAIT AL KARAMA

Manuela De Leonardis worked for photographic historical national archives, specialized as archivist and historical researcher, as well as cataloging and indexing historical photographic collections. As a free lance journalist she writes for Il Manifesto/Alias, Exibart, Art a part of Cult(ure), Andy Magazine. In 2007 she starts work as curator for several exhibitions and festival of photography. She published with Postcart "A tu per tu con i grandi fotografi" Vol. I and II in Postwords collection.

Postcart srl
via Prenestina 435, 00177 Roma
tel. +39 062591030 fax. +39 0695213327
info@postcart.com